

VINCENT J. CALO

Here at Mansour Gavin, we are a team of experienced counselors who secure results for our clients through practical and efficient strategies.

Vincent J. Calo is an experienced corporate and business law attorney who specializes in representing professional athletes, coaches and media personalities in talent and marketing contract negotiations, business transactions, and non-profit establishment and governance. He frequently serves as each client's general counsel. Mr. Calo also has significant experience representing corporate clients, business owners, and entrepreneurs. As a Certified NFL Agent, Vince has negotiated tens of millions of dollars in NFL media and business transactions and became one of the youngest agents to have a client drafted in the top 100 of the NFL Draft in 2012.

Currently, Vince is using his spare time to pursue his Masters of Business Administration in the University of Michigan's Ross Executive MBA program.

Vince is licensed in the State of Ohio and in the U.S. District Court, Northern District of Ohio. He and his wife reside in Concord with their three children.
