Mitchell Kolesar is a member of the firm's corporate and business law and real estate and land use departments. He has extensive experience counseling clients on corporate business matters, real estate development, contract negotiations, and assisting new businesses with entity formation.

His wide-ranging transactional experience includes representing buyers and sellers throughout all phases of the merger and acquisition process and consulting real estate developers throughout the life cycle of the real estate projects.

Mr. Kolesar is actively involved with Business Volunteers Unlimited Young Professionals Leader Corps. He also volunteers his time to Torchbearers, which strengthens the connection between Akron area non-profits and emerging leaders, as well as Archbishop Hoban High School.

Mitchell resides in Akron and enjoys spending time with his family, including his dog Lue. When time and weather allow, Mitchell loves to be on the golf course.
