Commercial Contracting

Clients choose Mansour Gavin because our attorneys work diligently to understand our clients' business and goals and advise them on the best ways to mitigate their risk. Our attorneys guide clients through the complexities of commercial contracting and structure an agreement that ensures their short and long-term goals are achieved and their rights and interests are protected.

We understand the broad range of issues surrounding contracts. We provide services to many successful businesses in a variety of industries including manufacturing, sourcing, finance, mortgage banking and brokerage, healthcare, assisting living, entertainment and real estate. Our clients consider our legal review as part of their sourcing process, providing guidance and recommendations on when and how to modify terms and conditions, what is market, best-practices and the right and tested language in a contract.

We provide legal due diligence, review, analysis, and recommendations for our clients with respect to all commercial contracts.
